

Sportradar Awarded Sports Betting Provider License in Kansas

September 8, 2022

Sportradar Group AG (NASDAQ: SRAD), via its US betting subsidiary, Sportradar Solutions LLC, today announced that it has received a Sports Wagering Service Provider Provisional Certification for the state of Kansas.

Sportradar now holds 40 licenses, or equivalent, in North America across US states, territories, tribes, and Canada, providing its data and services to a wide range of clients operating within these jurisdictions, in order to ensure transparency, integrity and that the most accurate sports data is being delivered to sanctioned sports betting and gaming agencies.

Kansas is the most recent US state to approve sports betting and fully launched retail and online betting on September 8, 2022.
